

TATA INSTITUTE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES, TULJAPUR PRESENTS

Tales of Rural India

NATIONAL RURAL YOUTH FESTIVAL, 2023

3rd - 6th March 2023

About TISS

Once upon a time.....

in the remote ranges of Balaghat Hills, a temple town named Tuljapur was conceived by the community, which envisaged a channel of Rural Development through an educational institute. It was the brainchild of The Tata Institute of Social Sciences, established in Mumbai in 1936, a premier institute for applied social sciences and professional social work in Asia.

It was on its golden jubilee in 1986, the Institute resolved to promote sustainable, eco-friendly, and equitable socio-economic development of rural communities. This brought TISS to Tuljapur, in the Osmanabad district, where it set up the School of Rural Development (SRD) with support from the Government of Maharashtra. This Rural campus, which spreads over 100 acres, is strategically located in the Marathwada region of Maharashtra. It is because this area has been subjected to some of the worst socio-economic conditions in India. The Tuljapur off-campus has, for the past 37 years, trained and educated thousands of social scientists and social workers while actively contributing to the revival of rural polity, economy, and society.

From The Deputy Director

Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Tuljapur, was established in 1986 through the sustained efforts of a community focused on rural development. It is a campus for and by the community, enabling and promoting practical education and research through pragmatic teaching. NRYF is an initiative that facilitates learning through celebration and provides a platform for rural India. This year, with the 13th iteration of NRYF, TISS Tuljapur is celebrating "Tales of Rural India." The institute's main institute functions as an open and safe platform for the diverse stories of authentic rural life. It covers events that reflect the Institute's principle of addressing the pressing issues faced by the rural community and providing solutions through a proactive approach.

Prof. Ramesh Jare
Deputy Director, TISS

On behalf of TISS Tuljapur, I invite you to participate in NRYF 2023.

I would like to welcome and encourage everyone across the nation to come forward and celebrate the union of traditional and modern innovations through various events of NRYF. Join the saga of socio-cultural programs and experience the National Rural Youth Festival (NRYF) with us. I extend my warmest wishes for success to all the students, organizers, staff, and faculty members involved in the planning and execution of NRYF 2023.

About the theme: "Tales of Rural India"

'Tales of Rural India' will be another chapter in the NRYF's ceaseless participation in the area of rural development. Rural India is often side-lined in the process of cultural synthesis and synergy that is taking place in urban spaces. NRYF aims to challenge rural homogenization by bringing together people from different places in our quest to create a platform where ideas are exchanged, and opinions are formed. NRYF hopes to be the platform to celebrate the notion of collectiveness that forms the core of rural India. We hope to channel this collective energy to create a constructive dialogue for rural development through 'Tales of Rural India'.
